Infralapsarian Order of the Elective Decrees; Logistical Grace

The Infralapsarian Order of the Elective Decrees

- 1- The decree to create mankind.
 - 2- The decree to permit the fall.
 - 3- The decree to provide salvation for all mankind.
 - 4- The decree to elect some from among the fallen (those who will believe in Christ in time) and leave all others in just condemnation.
 - 5- The decree to save the elect through faith alone in Christ alone.
52. Those who believe in Christ in time were recognized as the elect in eternity past. These individuals were granted the assets necessary to reach a level of spiritual growth in which they would determine that God was worthy to be praised and glorified.
 53. God thus provided a system through which believers who make such an advance could be blessed by Him without compromising His integrity.
 54. Through the escrow deposit, God placed upon Himself a legal obligation to provide blessings exceedingly abundantly beyond anything the human mind can understand for those who fulfill the conditions of the Escrow Agreement.
 55. He also provided a system that sustains each believer while he either makes the advance in the plan or diverts into cosmic thinking.
 56. Logistical grace supplies each believer with equal privilege and equal opportunity through the provision of life sustaining essentials as well as the necessary assets for spiritual growth.
 57. By utilizing these grace provisions the believer is empowered to make the advance. Those who do receive the conveyance of their escrow blessings; those who do not have theirs retained in escrow for all eternity.
